Australian National Wine and Beer Show September 2017

Presentation Day Sunday October 1st

ANAWBS offers the opportunity for all interested amateur winemakers and brewers to have their wines and beers. assessed by qualified judges and compared with the efforts of other amateurs in an atmosphere of friendly competition

It is not necessary for exhibitors to belong to a Winemakers or Brewers Club. However, membership of such clubs offers access to ideas, knowledge and the guidance of experienced amateur winemakers and brewers.

At the end of the Presentation Ceremony, an individual report showing the points scored, the original judges' sheets (which include the judges' comments and suggestions and any medals won) can be collected. Those not collected will be mailed. All results will be available on the ANAWBS website within two days of Presentation Day.

A comprehensive Results Catalogue with class lists, points and award winners, will be posted to all exhibitors, sponsors and interested parties about six weeks after the Show.

Exhibitors, family, friends and public are invited to attend the Presentation Ceremony. This year's date is Sunday 1st October 2017 at 1pm. Tasting of all judged wine entries will commence at 2:30 pm. There is ample opportunity for socialising and exchanging of comments and ideas with fellow competitors and a chance to meet club members and discuss techniques.

Follow us on

We like to think we are more than just a wine club, but more of a wine and food experience and sharing of ideas at a minimal cost to participants. Our members have amazing talents as do some of their friends and we hope to share these talents and learn from each other. Some of our parents' and ancestors' past cultural culinary skills will be lost if we don't pass them on and value them.
